Navy Day Review of U. S. Sea Power

Wide World Features

MOST people think of Uncle Sam's fighting navy as a big collection of battleships, cruisers, aircraft carriers, destroyers and submarines. But behind these ships of the battle line there is an even bigger collection of ships and boats that are rarely thought about. They play vital roles in conflict across the seven seas. Let's take stock on this Navy Day of the 27 types in the fleet.

Freezing Local Realty Taxes Is Urged by Board

School Levy and Sewer Rental Fee Opposed by Realtors.

The Marion Real Estate board, at a meeting last night in the office of Karl Schell, went on record in favor of "freezing local realty taxes" for the duration.

The board voted this stand after a lengthy discussion of problems facing real estate dealers and owners, and included explanation of its action in the resolution itself.

The resolution opens with the statement: "Whereas, rents in Marion have been frozen as of March 1, 1942, in most cases of unprofitably low levels, especially in view of greatly increased maintenance costs and expenses, and whereas, rents in Marion have not a corresponding low point of the depression period, because of which real estate values were seriously undervalued, and the fact that Marion rents as of March 1, 1942, were considerably under the average of the cities in the same class in Ohio; now, therefore, be it resolved that the Marion Real Estate board go on record as favoring a freezing of local realty taxes at the March 1, 1942, level for the duration, to prevent additional hardship to home owners and landlords who are all facing tremendously increased taxes to help finance the war effort, besides having frozen wages and incomes reduced by soaring living costs."

The resolution specifically resolves, "in view of the increasing acute problems of real estate ownership occasioned by necessary wartime regulations and conditions, to recommend and urge defeat of the sewer tax proposal adopted by city council and the proposed two-mill levy for the city schools."

"And this very lack is one of the most frequent causes of wartime constipation. It isn't a disease, it's only a temporary ailment, because if you don't correct the cause."

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Last Saturday night we were sitting around Jeb Crowell's house, and from upstairs we hear the squawks those Crowell youngsters put up while their Ma was dunkin' 'em in soap and water. Causes Jeb to comment.

"Just shows how times change. Used to be a law here in America that 'nobody could take a bain without a doctor's prescription'."

Then we got talking about the funny laws some people have put through in this country—like the state where they made it against the law to wake a man up if he's sleeping on the railroad tracks.

"Railroad law I once heard about," says Basil Strube, the stationmaster, "said when two trains meet at an intersection, neither can proceed until the other one has gone ahead."

"How could that be a law?" asks Pete Swanson. "That just don't make sense."

"Lots of laws don't make sense," says Jeb. "Why just think! We're livin' in a land where most folks hold for tolerance and understanding. And yet it wasn't so long ago we had a law of Prohibition count for that, if you can."

Well, he had us there. America—where we set so store on 'savin' the other point of view—nawin' such. Now that it's all over, it's no realize how people put up a law like that, even as late they did.

From where I sit, a man every right to enjoy a tall glass of beer when he was quench his thirst. Beer's a drink. It's a drink of moderation. And most folks—even those that don't drink beer themselves are tolerant enough, nowadays, to respect the rights of folks who

I reckon Jeb was right—had some mighty strange laws in this country.

FORMER BUCYRIAN KILLED AT DELAWARE

Butler Found Dead Along
Tracks: Rites at Marengo.

By The Associated Press
DELAWARE, O., Oct. 27.—A case of accidental death was announced by Coroner E. V. Arnold today following an investigation of the body of Vernon K. Butler, 33, formerly of Bucyrus, whose body was found Sunday on the New Central railroad right-of-way, one and a half miles
west of Delaware.

Identified through a selective service registration card and other papers found on the body.
According to Deputy Sheriff Robert Milligan, Butler stopped at a Delaware filling station about 9 Saturday night and attempted to cash a check. He inquired where he would have to go to board a train for Gallon.

His body was found near the signal tower at the junction of the main New York Central line and the loop. Officials believe he went to the tower, boarded a train
when it slowed down for the junction and was killed when he lost his hold and fell. Both shoes were stripped from his feet and contents of his pocket were scattered over the right-of-way.

The body later was identified by a brother, Murray Butler of near Bucyrus. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Marie Stumpf of Marengo and a brother, Frank Butler of Maine.

The funeral was conducted today at 2 p. m. in the Marengo Methodist church. Burial was made in the Bloomfield cemetery near Sparta.

SHARE RIDE TEST ACTION IN COURT

Judge's Decision in Damage Suit Appealed.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—A "test case" decision that share-ride
drivers are not liable for injury to passengers headed today toward the court of appeals.

Two war workers, asserting the rights of all passengers were "adversely affected," filed an appeal within an hour after the decision was handed down by Chief Justice Homer G. Powell of the Cuyahoga county common pleas court.

The ruling was given in a suit brought by Joseph C. Miller, an oil company employee, who asked
the court for a declaratory judgment concerning his relationship to two men who shared his car.
Judge Powell ruled the driver
could not be held liable in event of an accident unless "wanting and willful negligence" was proved, adding the driver was a host and the passengers were guests within the meaning of the Ohio "guest statute."

Attorneys said the decision set a legal precedent for the federal government and gave wide protection to drivers forced to share their cars under the government's new rationing program.

M. L. Bernstein, appointed by the Cleveland bar association to represent Miller's two passengers, contended the ruling was erroneous, asserting it did not take into consideration the two workers' payment for gasoline
and oil in sharing the ride.

"These passengers were not guests," Bernstein claimed.
"They were commercial passengers paying a fee for their ride."
He added that the case would be carried to the Ohio supreme court if necessary to get the question fully answered.

HOW 10,000 TANK CARS WERE PULLED OUT OF THE AIR

This is a story of headlines.

The first headline reads, "Navy Announces
Two Tankers Sunk in Atlantic."

The second headline says much the same—
"Tankers Torpedoed—Fuel Runs Low in Massachusetts"

Hot water becomes a luxury in New York.
Homes can't be kept quite warm enough. Cars without gasoline stand idle in Pennsylvania,
Connecticut, Virginia, and Maine

What to do?

America turns to her railroads. Can they carry a greater share of the load?

They can and they do.

Starting with normal shipments of 12,000
bbls. of oil a day, the Erie together with other railroads double this figure. Then we double it again and again and again until we are carrying 850,000 bbls. a day. Seventy times as much today as in 1941!

Phenomenal? Yes, but no trick of magic. It takes years of "know-how", the pooling of facilities, and the interchange of new operating ideas to make one train do the work of many—to pull 10,000 tank cars out of the air.

The wholehearted support of government agencies helped. So did the cooperation of civilian shippers and car owners. But the most important factor was an intangible—a will
to serve the American people that is present
all the time, in peace as well as in war.

In spite of every submarine in the Nazi navy, fuel oil and gasoline are going through.

And the last headline reads, "Threat to Comfort and Health of America's Homes Banished"

Council Hires H. L. Dowler To Fill New City Position

Selected As Assistant City Solicitor To Handle Police Work; New Court Job Created.

Harry L. Dowler, of 196 South Greenwood street attorney, was named today to the post of assistant city solicitor in a city council session last night at which the position of assistant municipal clerk was created.

Both of the new positions were created to cope with the vastly increased police and municipal court work which has developed with the increase of war production and construction in the Marion area.

The appointment of Mr. Dowler to a position approximating that of police prosecutor, abolished prior to the present administration, was made by City Solicitor Kenneth A. Robinson now on leave and in service with the armed forces. It was made through Acting City Solicitor R. M. Wilhelm who requested the appointment of a police prosecutor at a council meeting two weeks ago.

Police Work Doubled
At the meeting two weeks ago when the request for a police prosecutor was made, Mr. Wilhelm told council the police work has "doubled" and the city's civil work has "doubled" in recent months.

BRICKER AND McSWEENEY CONTINUE VOTE DRIVE

Governor on Radio White FM Speaks in Cleveland.

By The Associated Press

Gov. Bricker asserted last night he was being supported for a third term by newspapers which know "whether government is good or bad," and John McSweeney, his Democratic opponent, replied:

"I need only say that he is supported in 1942 by the same newspapers which, in 1940, opposed Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Bricker, a Republican seeking reelection, spoke from Dayton in his regular weekly campaign radio broadcast. In his prepared address, he thanked newspapers for "the support they are giving me" and added it would enable him to serve "honestly and fearlessly throughout the dark days of the war that lie ahead."

"When the press in all sections of the state is unanimous in their acclaim of an administration, you may be sure that the policies of that administration have been carefully watched and appraised before approval."

Bricker spoke again of the state treasury surplus of $20,000,000 and said no state entered the war on a more solid financial footing than Ohio.

McSweeney, speaking in Cleveland, said the surplus should be about $100,000,000 instead of $20,000,000.

"Any man can have a bank account, under normal conditions, if he neglects his obligations and allows his family to starve," McSweeney said.

Gas

IS VITAL TO WAR INDUSTRY

— USE IT WISELY AT HOME

Planes, tanks, ships, guns and thousands of other materials of war depend upon gas in their manufacture. The war production drive has greatly increased the demand for gas on the industrial front. These demands make it all the more important that you use this vital fuel wisely at home. Below are a few suggestions which will help you save gas.

ON YOUR RANGE, don't "hurry" your top burner cooking. Gas is fast and flexible. Set the flame to fit the utensil and food to be cooked. Once the boiling point is reached, turn the flame low or to a simmer. Keep burners in proper adjustment. In oven cooking, plan complete oven meals. Saves time as well as fuel.

ON YOUR REFRIGERATOR, the position of the temperature control should depend on the refrigerator load. When the load is heavy, turn the pointer to a colder position. With an ordinary load, turn the pointer midway between coldest and least cold position, etc. Defrost regularly, at least once a week.

IN YOUR HOT WATER SYSTEM, check your hot water faucets to see that they do not leak. A dripping hot water tap is both wasteful and bothersome. The "automatic" type water heater is the most economical in operation. On manual controlled water heaters, it is wasteful to leave the burner turned up longer than necessary.

FOR HOME HEATING, inspect windows and doors for heat losses. Install storm windows and doors on more exposed areas. Insulate ceilings and walls as much as possible. Shut off rooms not in use. Keep bedrooms with open windows shut off.

The Associated Press

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Oct. 28

THE LUNAR transits for this day point to a hazy and rainy day with the mercury and facilities keyed up to high put- ting and worthwhile ambitions. These enthusiastic, however, may lack the support or en- couragement of employers, super- visors or others whose cooperation may seem necessary. Deter- mination, persistence and con- structive effort should win out to profitable and gratifying goals, with expended finances, increase of popularity, and busi- ness and social prestige.

Those whose birthday it is are faced by a year in which their major ambitions and objectives may have to be put over by their own indomitable will, skill, practical constructive ability and enthusiasm, as there is little hope of assistance or encour- agement from outsiders, em- ployers, superiors or those in a financial position to promote worthy enterprise and initiative. However, with resolution and sound tactics there should be lucrative returns financially and enhanced personal popularity in business and socially. There may be urges to overstep.

A child born on this day should have much enterprise, energy and constructive ability, with high ambitions to put over worthwhile projects. Its own force of character should carry it to success.

until he is ready. There can be not even any minor offenders until he says, "It can be done." The reorganization of the army in March, 1942, attracted little attention. It was there were stories about "streamlining," etc., but such things hardly made headlines. The story was in the presidential order, anyway. The story was whether it would work. So far as the services of supply is concerned, it is beginning to appear that it has.

One for a Few

What the President did so far as supply is concerned, was to let off a few heads and set up one of the New Deal's most impor- tant young lieutenant general, who has been only a lieutenant since he became the overall chief of ord- nance, the corps of engineers, the quartermaster, signal, medical and chaplain corps, and the chemical war service.

There has been a lot of stuff

written and whispered about Gen. Somervell's "little" unit, the Quartermaster's School, which has been so distinguished in the Washington chapter. There have been clashes between Army and Navy forces and WPA chiefs, but it was never an struggle for power. Somervell's unit is a serious of face, and even if it has 30 years' worth of Gen. Somervell has been added to a good many to his army record for more than 30 years.

and broken promises." Willkie said a nationwide radio address
last night in an uncensored report of his recent journey to the Middle East, Russia and China.

The 1943 Republican presidential candidate declared that the war's record thus far was not such as to inspire "any sublime faith in the infallibility of our military and naval experts." He termed "misdirected censorship"

the idea that non-military experts or persons not connected with the government should not make suggestions about conducting the war
"military, industrial, economic or political."

"Let's have no more of this nonsense," he declared in the speeches made by the four major networks. "Military experts as well as our leaders, must be constantly exposed to democracy's greatest defense cover—the attack of public opinion, developed from honest, free discussion."

"We and our allies must establish a second fighting front in Europe," Willkie said. "I also hope that shortly we can put the considerable force in India to actively use in an all-out attack
on Burma, as General Wavell has urged. Thus we will relieve the pressure of our enemies on China
and Russia, our superb fighting allies."

Willkie asserted that America was "also punching holes in our reservoir of good-will every day
by failing to define clearly our war aims," and continued:

"Besides giving our allies in Asia and eastern Europe something to fight with, we have got to give them assurance of what we are fighting for. The 100-000,000 people of Russia and the 450,000,000 people of China—people like you and me—are bewildered and anxious."

"They know what they are fighting for. They are not so sure of us. Many of them have read the Atlantic charter. Rightly or wrongly, they are not satisfied.
They ask: What about a Pacific charter? What about a world charter?"

Willkie attacked what he termed a "half-suspicious, halfpatronizing way in which we have grown accustomed to treating many of the peoples in eastern Europe and Asia."

Allies Are Proud People
He said leaders of America's allies and potential allies were proud, intelligent men who agreed substantially on a need of "abolishing imperialism, of liberating the people of the world, of making freedom a reality, instead of just a nice word."

He mentioned the Shah of Iran,
the prime minister of Iraq, the prime minister of Turkey and the generalissimo of China, and said

the United States had failed consistently to send them representatives with authority to discuss problems "intelligently" and to take realistic steps toward their solution.

He declared that no man of cabinet rank had been sent to Russia on special mission "to talk to Mr. Stalin," adding that it was the British Prime Minister who spoke primarily for this country
on the last such mission.

"We must wipe out the distinction in our minds," he said,
"between 'first class' and 'second class' allies. We must send to represent us among all our allies really distinguished men who are important enough in their own right to dare tell our President
the truth."

Stupid, arbitrary or undemocratic censorship, Willkie declared, resulted in "atrophy of intelligence" and he asserted that facts such as he had collected on his trip and reported in his speech
"should be given to us all."

"For this we recognize and correct them, we may lose the friendship of half our allies before the war is over and then lose the peace."

To win the war, the nation must know as much about it as possible, subject only to the needs
of military security, he added.
Then he said:

"You all recall that France had a military leader by the name of Magenot. When a far-sighted citizen of France occasionally suggested that perhaps conditions of modern warfare were such that fortresses built underground would not be adequate against airplanes and tanks, he was reminded that he should leave such matters to the experts."

At another point, Willkie declared: "Alan with greater power
usually like to live free of criticism. But when they get that way, that's the time to increase the criticism."

Arms Victory Not Enough

He expressed belief that "we could win the war" in a military sense because of resources, manpower and courage, but added that a "military victory, as such, will not be enough." He declared:

"We must fight our way
through not alone in the destruction of our enemies but to a new world idea. We must win the peace."

Three things seemed necessary to win the peace, he said. First, plan now for peace on a global basis; second, the world must be free, economically and politically;
for nations and for men that peace may exist in it, and third,
America must play an active constructive part in freeing it and keeping its peace.

"After centuries of ignorant and dull complacency," he said, hundreds of millions of people in eastern Europe and Asia have opened the books. Old fears no longer govern them. They are no longer willing to be beaten slaves for western profits.

"They are revolted, as we must be, that there is no more place for imperialism within their own society than in the society of nations. The big house on the hill surrounded by mud huts has lost its awesome charm."

Speaking of the small volume of war supplies reaching some countries, Willkie said he followed those streams and others to their destinations—"and I stopped talking about American production."

"If I were to tell you how few bombers China has received from us you simply would not believe me," he said. "If I were to tell you how far Russia feels we are
for fulfilling our commitments,
you would agree with me that we have little reason to boast about our performance."

There were exceptions, he said,
but he added that it was his reasoned judgment that "we cannot win this war 40 per cent mobilized."

"There are a great many people listening to me tonight who would like to do more if they knew what more to do. It is up to us to make our leaders give us more to do."

WHILE PROVES FRIEND

Soon after escaping a Japanese submarine a dozen Australian and British airmen in a 30-foot life-boat in the Indian ocean met a whale, but he proved to be just a friend. The men had been at sea
a month when the whale gave them their worst scare. A mammoth creature, it came up only three feet away. It stared at them for what seemed a long time while they sat petrified, and then it
winked as if to say, "It's all right,
boys, you may proceed," and submerged. One flick of its tail and the boat would have been match-wood. The airmen sailed in the lifeboat when Java fell to the Japs and were 44 days at sea before an Australian flying boat sighted
them and took them aboard.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Your purchase of War Bonds will help pay for hundreds of individual field radio sets necessary for radio
communications in modern warfare.
Field radio is used by advance
troops to report enemy placements,
to report accuracy of barrage of fire
range, and for transmission of important messages.

One of the field radio sets consists of a pack which the soldier carries on his back and by which he can both talk and receive messages.

MASS GARDENING OPENS

Australia has developed vegetable growing on a mass production basis never before attempted outside Russia. To supplement the country's market garden plots
many thousands of acres will be tilled on a vast scale. The object is to supply fresh vegetables to Australian and Allied troops. The Commonwealth Department of Supply at Canberra started the project, which takes in every phase of vegetable food production from growing seed to canning and distributing crops. Thirty thousand tons of crop vegetables is the aim of one New Wales irrigation area. At an experimental farm
there 963 pounds of carrot seed was produced from 15 acres and 473 pounds of parsnip seed from a similar area.

THEFT CATTLE BUY WIFE

Cattle thefts that troubled northern Natal farmers were accounted for in court at Dundee
when Ntusi Ngema was sentenced to seven years' hard labor for the theft of 60 head of cattle. Fifty of the cattle he used to pay
"lobola" for a wife who is the granddaughter of Dube, the Zulu king, and a son of the present regent Mkhosini.

of the German people.

A FIELD marshal up and down

to an inner voice and making some changes. "Initially," he told him as chief of the army
general staff on Dec. 13, 1941.

The word and many of the German people assumed that Von Brauchitsch was deposed because he did not take Moscow and because, the Russian campaign,
which was to have been cleaned
up in about two months, was stretching into another year.

Von Brauchitsch retired gracefully with the comment, "in hard times the hardest first lead," and retained Hitler's goodwill. It has been reported, but never confirmed by Berlin, that he was restored to his functions, it not actually to his command, last July.

Gen. Heinrich Von Stuedemann,

sources, was relieved of command

TRUCKER CORNERS MILK

Australian soldiers are in the habit of drinking milk, particularly for a milk mixture as a sweet milk. A milkman visiting a camp near Melbourne sold a considerable supply of sweet milk, 10 bottles in all, to a soldier who returned the empty bottles before the soldier
left the camp.

The discovery of a "down-

for which was secretly and quietly killed the American who was in

THE RECORD WILL SHOW THAT CONGRESSMAN SMITH HAS SAID
MANY TIMES "I BELIEVE IT TO BE THE RIGHT OF LABOR TO OR-GANIZE, TO BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY, AND TO STRIKE IN PEACE TIME."

CONGRESSMAN SMITH RECENTLY SAID "SOLDIERS ON THE BAT-TLE FRONT CAN'T STRIKE, WOULDN'T THINK OF SUCH A THING,
AND IF THEY DID THEY WOULD BE PUNISHED FOR TREASON."

Congressman Smith voted for a bill after our soldiers had been sent to Iceland and we were in war, that provided in case of strikes, in Defense
Plants only, the Government would protect persons who desired to untar to work in those plants and make the materials of war our soldiers need to defend their lives and our nation.

Congressman Smith voted for another bill that provided for a cooling off period of 30 days, in defense plants only, before a strike could be called.

Congressman Smith believes no person should be compelled to pay any tribute for the right to be allowed to make the materials of war our soldiers need to defend their lives and the life of our nation.

MANY HAVE BEEN DENIED THE RIGHT TO WORK IN WAR PLANTS
BECAUSE THEY DID NOT HAVE THE MONEY TO PAY EX-ORBITANT FEES DEMANDED BY CERTAIN ORGANIZATIONS.

CONGRESSMAN SMITH HAS NO QUARREL WITH UNIONS OR MAN-AGEMENT, JUST SO LONG AS THE ACTS OF EITHER DO NOT IN-TERFERE IN THE WAR EFFORT WITH WHICH THEY ARE CON-NECTED—DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY. UNLESS HITLER AND HIROHITO WILL AGREE TO WAIT UNTIL WE SETTLE OUR LABOR AND PRODUCTION QUARRELS, LOCKOUTS AND STRIKES CANNOT BE DEFENDED IN WAR TIME.

THE COLD FACT IS WE ARE IN WAR. AND WHILE IN WAR ALL LA-BOR AND PRODUCTION DIFFERENCES THAT MAY ARISE MUST BE SETTLED BY MEANS THAT WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH THE FLOW OF ARMS TO OUR SOLDIERS, BECAUSE AS ADMIRAL BEN MOR-RELL SAYS:

"In a total war when we are fighting for our very existence, work stoppages are to be measured by one or both of two yardsticks—human blood—and human lives Just these two; nothing more. I tell you that every stoppage, every slow down, every delay, can be traced
through the intricate ramifications of the production and transportation processes, to the battle front and there chalked up in lost blood and lost lives; American blood and American lives!"

ended with killing 4,000 Germans and Rumanians in six days. Russia said that, because of heavy losses, the Germans were no longer to press attacks on the front.

Marionites Attend Meeting in Gallon

William H. Gay and son and R. D. Luke and daughter attended a district meeting of hardware dealers Monday night at the Hotel Talbot in Gallon.

Joe Linnville of the office of price administration at Columbus gave an outline of how the maximum price regulations apply to the hardware business and John D. Conklin of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Hardware Dealers' association, discussed business of the association.

The dealers talked over employment problems, expense control and methods by which stores will add new lines replacing articles taken off the market.

TAXES

sides considerable state aid from the sales tax. The tax and extra two-mill school levy will increase taxes on Marion's real estate an estimated $400,000 in the next five years.

The real estate board recognizes that the school board and city council are having financial problems as well as home owners and landlords, but it is emphatically inequitable for public officials to take the easy way out of their difficulties, under the circumstances, by attempting to solve their problems by imposing new taxes at the expense of already overtaxed property owners who are helpless to protect themselves under the almost confiscatory regulations now prevailing. Certainly it is more patriotic to save than to spend in administration of local affairs when we as a nation are engaged in a war for survival and will have to expend our resources almost to the point of bankruptcy to win the war as well as the kind of peace that is hoped for by our leaders.

The board also opposes any contemplated increase in the valuation of real estate for tax purposes in the coming 1943 reappraisal.

Another point brought out in the discussion was that the biggest hardship on realty owners and dealers is the rent-freezing regulation which makes it impossible to pass on to renters any increases in operating or maintenance costs. Taxes or other added expenses the owner might incur. Another phase of rent regulation makes it impossible for owners and dealers to promise a definite possession date to a prospective purchaser, it was pointed out. Regulations are such that renters are allowed a certain amount of time in a house even after it has been sold, they explained.

Gasoline rationing will present another serious problem that will affect many dealers, it was pointed out. Rationing will curtail the amount of traveling dealers may do in showing properties.

Board members estimated the proposed two-mill school tax levy would raise $60,000 a year and that the proposed municipal sewer rental fee would cost $40,000 a year.

Nationwide Program

Board officials said the National Association of Real Estate Boards is urging federal officers to take steps to protect landlords, other realty owners and dealers from possible bankruptcy under wartime regulations. This protection can be provided only through freezing of taxes and control over the costs of supplies and wages that landlords must pay to keep up their rental properties, according to a stand taken by the national association.

Continued disagreements between the faction headed by Adolf Hitler and General Alfred Jodl and one including Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock and Col. Gen. Franz Halder.

Hitler and Jodl were declared to have insisted that German troops press on against Stalingrad and prepare to attack across the ice of the Volga while Von Bock and Halder were said to want the Germans to fall back to stronger, more comfortable winter lines behind the Don.

Widespread strikes were reported by the International Transport Workers Federation to have broken out in Athens and Piraeus, Greece, leading to the use of troops to force the participants back to work.

Three of the strike leaders were executed, 800 were sentenced to long prison terms and 11,000 persons were dismissed, the federation said.

Willkie's Speech Draws Interest in London Press

(Account of Willkie's speech on Page 1)

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON, Oct. 27—Wendell Willkie's address to the nation is receiving much attention in the London press and it is significant of the trend of public opinion here that the reiteration of his demand for a second front in Europe gets a special display.

That is to say, the opening of the great allied offensive in Africa does not seem to have dimmed the belief in the necessity of action in western Europe to meet the call of Russia.

Undoubtedly, the reason is that the man in the street is aware that only this direct assault on the equipment can force Hitler to withdraw his strength from the eastern front.

The offensive against the axis in Egypt is a most heartening exhibition of allied initiative. The battle in Egypt, however, presents a curious anomaly. Hitler might conceivably win the war by gaining control of this strategic Mediterranean area. But the allies can't win the war solely by retaining control. They must, in addition, strike directly at the heart of Hitlerism—Germany.

That is not a matter of argument. The allied high command recognizes the necessity of hitting Hitler through Europe and has promised a second front there as soon as feasible.

There can be no major invasion with a land army until the American and British air forces have prepared the way by bombing Hitler's war industries and communications into such a state of devastation that he will be close to impotence.

It would mean a mass slaughter of allied troops for us to try to land a great army before our combined air forces had ironed out the continent.

Obviously the arrival of the time when it will be feasible to open this great second front must depend on how soon our bomber fleets get into action.

Military experts here insist that Hitler must not be allowed to take advantage of a lull in the winter fighting to repair the damage he has suffered in the Russian campaign.

Britain should be able to provide a part of the increase in the bomber force, but undoubtedly great dependence must be placed on America's larger resources.

If we can get these fresh forces into action in the near future we may be able to nail Hitler's hide on the barn door by next fall.

COUNTY MILK GROUP MEETS

State Agriculture Director One of Speakers at Annual Session

Election of three directors and talks by men interested in the production of milk in the state and county were highlights of the annual meeting of the Marion Milk Producers association last night in the recreation room of the First Evangelical and Reformed church. Covers were placed for 175 members and guests, who included all producers, distributors and haulers and their wives and wives of the members of the association. Elmer A. Williams, president of the association, presided.

Paul Lawrence, Emmett Trout and Mr. Williams were elected directors for terms of three years, and plans were made for a reorganization meeting Nov. 16. Speakers included John T. Brown, director of agriculture in Ohio and W. B. Wood, supervisor of dairy trade practices in Ohio. Brief remarks also were given by Mr. Fisher, assistant to Mr. Wood.

Charles Blackburn of Ohio state university, A. H. Smith, county farm agent, Harvey T. Gracely, owner of a dairy herd, and Dr. J. T. Gruber, county milk inspector.

Mr. Brown talked on the dairy industry in the state and told his audience that the county faced a milk shortage due to the lack of help on farms and also the changing of farmers from dairy farming to general farming. He stated that if adequate production is to be maintained farm boys must be left on farms and not drafted for armed service.

Mr. Wood discussed the dairy laws of the state and their enforcement and told of the licensing of dairies and the work of dairy inspectors throughout the state.

Entertainment included vocal numbers by Ivan Cooper, assisted by Madge Cooner at the piano, and Misses Ruth and Mary Kaufman gave a comic sketch.

A car belonging to James E. Fletcher of the Lido apartments, stolen Sunday night, was recovered near Owens Monday by sheriff's deputies. Four wheels, three and a hot water heater were among the parts missing. From marks on the bumper the car apparently had been pushed from its parking place.

Signal Corps Men Rise To Finest Traditions in Solomons Fighting

By ROBERT C. MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

MARINE HEADQUARTERS, SOLOMON ISLANDS—Not all the heroes in the United Nations' Solomon Islands invasion are in the front lines manning guns and trading lead with the Japanese; many are in the Signal Corps.

It's the job of the Signal Corpsmen and communications personnel in the units to maintain communication between all troops based in the Solomons, and on their shoulders falls the task of laying telephone wires—sometimes under direct fire—repairing installations which in many cases have been deliberately destroyed by the enemy, and installing and operating both radio and telephone equipment.

The signal officer on Guadalcanal is Lt. Col. Edward Snedeker of Greenville, N. C., and Benkelman, Neb. It was one of Colonel Snedeker's men, Pfc. James D. Roberts, former Tiptonville, Tenn., linotype operator, who performed outstanding work even for the Signal Corps.

Sticks at Switchboard
Private Roberts has stuck to his switchboard through every shelling and bombing and was at his board recently when a 500-pound bomb fell just outside the telephone exchange. Shrapnel from the bomb sprayed his board and one splinter severed a cord Roberts was about to plug in. As he reached for another line it came apart in his hand, having also been cut by the shrapnel.

"I guess the reason I didn't move was because I was too scared," the 20-year-old Marine said in explaining how he manned the board even after his narrow escape.

Private Roberts was at his post in a dugout when a Japanese night attack was aimed at the post.

"There was a machine gun mounted atop our sand-bagged dugout and the Japs shot a rifle grenade into it, destroying the position and allowed it to retire to a new position successfully.

It was the heroism of Corp. Walter J. Burak of Pittsburgh, Penn., that enabled the radio battalion to withdraw from its advance position during a Japanese night attack in which an entire company of Marine raiders was cut off from communication with the main body of troops. Corporal Burak re-established communication by relaying 200 yards of telephone wire which the Japanese had cut. He crawled along the ridge under constant enemy sniper and light machine gun fire, dragging the roll of wire behind him. His feat enabled the company to direct an artillery barrage that halted an enemy attack on the position and allowed it to retire to a new position successfully.

gunners. We could feel the explosion in the dugout and hear the sniping and explosion of the mortars and grenades outside. I thought the Japs were coming right in the door so we posted armed guards just inside the door, draped a blanket over the key to keep the light from shining outside and awaited the attack."

Repairs Wire Under Fire
The next thing Roberts heard was the patter of running feet above the dugout and despite the fact that death or capture was imminent, he stayed at the board putting calls through without interruption. The people heard on the roof were Marines, however, who were replacing the damaged unit and the Japanese never got close to the dugout.

One member of the signal company was killed during a bombing raid when a bomb damaged the radio shack. Despite the damage to equipment by the raid, Marine Lt. Sanford B. Hunt, Jr., former Newark, N. J., newspaper reporter and officer in charge of the radio equipment, had Guadalcanal back in radio contact with the outside world within 10 minutes. The bombing caused the first break in the steady flow of communications since the Marines landed on August 7.

of fresh enemy troops, that the Wasp was lost.

She was mortally wounded by a prowling submarine that fired a salvo of three torpedoes into the vicinity of her bow. A series of heavy explosions tore through the ship, starting fires that raged out of control.

All hope of saving her gone, a U. S. destroyer administered the coup de grace with torpedoes and sank down to join two other American carriers, the Lexington and the Yorktown, on the bottom of the Pacific. She was the 13th ship reported lost in the Solomons.

The navy said all but about 10 percent of the personnel, normally 1,900 officers and men, were rescued.

The 730-foot Wasp was completed only two years ago but already she had seen service in both hemispheres, having been used early this year to ferry planes to the Mediterranean island of Malta.

Harding To Play at Bucyrus Thursday; Irish Oppose Lima St. Rose

Both Teams Seek Win After Losing Games Last Week.

Rebounding from gridiron defeats in their latest outings, Marion's two scholastic elevens this week prepare for a pair of "bait" on their 1942 schedules.

Marion Harding, scheduled to tangle with an often beaten Bucyrus Redmen team Thursday night at Bucyrus, will be making its last out-of-town trip of the season.

Marion St. Mary, loser to Tiffin Calvert and Crestline and winner over Forest and Fostoria St. Wendelin, then loser to Mansfield Madison to end up on the short end of a five-game record, tackles a strong Lima St. Rose team Thursday night at Harding stadium in the last home game of the 1942 campaign.

Trimmed, and soundly, by a superb Sandusky Blue Streak eleven, Marion Harding's Presidents tee off Thursday night at Bucyrus against an apparently powerful Bucyrus team.

Their latest—and greatest—victory string broken at 15 games, the Hardings will be out to recover some of the prestige lost in a 20-0 shellacking at the hands of Sandusky here last Friday.

Harding coaches and players today were only too aware of the fact that Bucyrus' team of two years ago was the last to defeat the Truxey gridiron in N. C. O. competition. This loss was avenged last year by a 27-0 Harding win.

The game, originally scheduled for Friday night, was rescheduled for Thursday because of statewide teachers' convention scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—So Bob Pastor is retiring, eh? ... That keeps his record clear—always after Joe Louis and never catching up ... Only the other day Jimmy Johnson was claiming the heavyweight title for Bob when Louis was the guy who was retiring ... Wonder if Jimmy could just be trying to get his fighter's name in the papers without having it pulled out that Pastor recently lost a fight to Jimmy Blinn?

Common Allment—At a recent soccer match between Bath City and Swansea Town in England, a squad of police was on hand with a bucket of disinfectant ... Every time the ball went out of bounds, the ball and the shoes of the men who retrieved it were washed in the liquid to prevent the spread of foot and mouth disease.

Today's Guest Star—John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "Understandably Manager J. J. Johnson is making a scouting trip through the hinterlands, possibly looking for a new champion. Well, after Bicycle Bob was beaten by Jimmy Blinn, who can blame old three J's for looking for fresher Pastors?"

Service Dept.—Although Bob Feller is the only student in his class at gunnery school at the Norfolk naval training station who never had the benefit of college training, Bob is one of the top students in the group.

FOUR OHIOANS STAR WITH ANNAPOLIS 11

Three Buckeye Gridders on Starting Team.

By The Associated Press
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 26.—The nation may be hailing Ohio State's Buckeye footballers this year but down here at little old Annapolis the navy's doffing its cap to four Buckeye players who left their native haunts to become U. S. naval academy midshipmen.

Ohio's record at Annapolis can't be challenged. Of the four midshipmen gridgers on the varsity roster, three have won first string berths and the fourth, Jack Martin, former Toledo Walke High school center, has almost made the grade.

The regulars are Willis D. Hume of Alliance; Guard Art Knox of Painesville, and Robert L. Wilson, Akron end.

Hume is no stranger to Buckeye scholastic grid fans. He's the same "Humbie" who roared to the nation's high school scoring championship in 1940 while logging the pigskin for Alliance High. Since the season began, he has been a fixture at fullback and against Virginia his 53-yard touchdown gallop was the longest touchdown jaunt in a 35-0 rout.

Likewise it was Hume's terrific punting against Yale, Oct. 17, that helped Navy to take home its first major victory of the season, 13-6. A sophomore, Hume has come along fast in the intercollegiate ranks and has been groomed to operate either from fullback or fullback wherever Coach John E. Whelchel, Midway coach, thinks he can perform to best advantage.

Knox, plagued by early season injuries, is a rugged defensive bulwark, while Wilson's claim to the regular right end assignment hasn't been questioned since the season's outset.

Knox hails from Painesville's Harvey High. Hume and Wilson spent a season at Bullis preparatory school before moving to Annapolis.

Martin, one of 12 plebes battling for varsity berths, is understudy to regular Dick Eddon, Pen Argyle veteran. The big Toledo boy came to Navy via Princeton where he was the regular center a year ago.

THE MARION STAR

MORT COOPER WINS NATIONAL LEAGUE'S 1942 PLAYER AWARD

Receives 13 of 24 First Place Votes To Beat Enos Slaughter.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The National League's most valuable player in 1942 was Morton Cecil Cooper, the big righthanded pitching ace of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, a committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America announced today.

The 28-year-old Missourian, who won 22 games to lead the Red Birds into the world series, received 13 of the committee's 24 first place votes and 283 out of a possible 320 points in the balloting as well as being the only player whose name appeared on every ballot.

This gave him a big margin over his teammate, Enos (Country) Slaughter, the Cards' slogging rightfielder, who edged out Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants for second honors, 200 points to 190 and six first place votes to four.

Marion Rated Seventh
The only other player to gain even one first place nod was Marion (Slats) Marion, the elongated shortstop of the Cardinals, who rated enough recognition to finish seventh in the selections.

Cooper was beaten only seven times and his 22 victories were more than any other pitcher in either major league produced.

He pitched a complete game in every contest that he won and led the majors in shutouts with ten, the most a National league hurler has achieved since 1933.

He always was given the toughest, most important pitching assignments by Manager Billy Southworth and his success sparked the rest of the team in the bitter battle with the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league championship.

The rating was determined solely on the basis of the regular season.

The honor signaled a remarkable recovery by Cooper from an elbow operation in the middle of the 1941 season. Last year he won 13 games and lost nine, even though out of action during a sizeable portion of the campaign.

Slaughter Near Top
Slaughter was ranked somewhere in the first ten selections by 21 of the committee men and Ott by 22, but below them the writers showed a wide divergence of opinion.

Mickey Owen, the scrappy catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, came in fourth with 102 points. Johnny Mize of the New York Giants was ranked fifth with 87 points and Pete Reiser of the Dodgers sixth with 91 points.

Then came Marion with 81 points, Dolph Camilli of Brooklyn with 42, Bob Elliott of Pittsburgh with 39 and Claude Passeau of the Chicago Cubs ranked tenth with 35.

The American League's most valuable player will be announced Wednesday, Nov. 4.

To Face Galion Jaycees Here Wednesday

BUCKS AGAIN FIRST IN NATIONAL RACE

80 Sports Writers Elect Ohioans for Top.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Ohio State's unbeaten football team, which appears stronger each time it takes the field, also is gaining favor with the gridiron experts, who for the third straight week named the Buckeyes the nation's No. 1 college in the weekly associated press poll.

In the Oct. 13 poll, first of the 1942 season, Ohio State rated 25 first-place votes and a total of 633 points. Last week the Bucks landed in first place on 58 ballots and collected 1,030 points.

But today, 40 of the 123 sports writers participating in the poll reserved first place for the Big Ten conference pace-setters who knocked off Northwestern 20-6, last Saturday; their fifth triumph in a row.

With additional backing on the other ballots, the Buckeyes amassed a total of 1,150 points, figured on the basis of ten for each first-place vote, nine for second, and so on. No voter rated Ohio State lower than sixth.

The top ten teams (first-place votes in parenthesis) and point totals:

Ohio State (60)	1,150
Georgia (25)	1,025
Alabama (6)	951.5
Notre Dame (2)	701.5
Georgia Tech (3)	668
Wisconsin (1)	571.5
Boston College (4)	418
Army (1)	295
Texas Christian	254
Minnesota	232

Georgia remained in second place and Alabama retained its hold on third place, but fourth was taken over by Notre Dame, which moved up from eighth place after jumping from the 22nd spot two weeks ago.

Michigan slipped from fourth to 13th and Illinois turned fifth place over to Georgia Tech, dropping to 11th. Army and Texas Christian are newcomers to the top ten this week.

Newark and Dover Teams To Clash In Game That May Decide Championship

Both Squads Have Record of Six Victories; Marion Harding Dropped from Ranks of Undefeated.

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 27.—The Wildcats of Newark and the Torridoes of Dover got the "game of the week" billing in Ohio's high school football circles, the pair of six-game winners being scheduled to tangle Thursday night at Newark in a contest which should decide the Central Ohio league championship.

Newark came up to the big fray with a 26-12 win over Zanesville, Halback Jack Bickel counting two touchdowns to net his scoring total to 103, while Dover enjoyed a 34 to 0 romp over Marietta. Two weeks ago Newark ended Marietta's four-game victory streak, 26 to 6.

Both teams are as well-rounded as a country haircut and the outcome is regarded as a tossup.

Harding Streak Ends

The week-end set of contests involving the 500-odd Buckeye teams was replete with unusual happenings. Lima South bowed 40 to 7 to Dayton Roosevelt; without incurring a penalty as the winners racked up their sixth straight win; Lima Central beat Findlay, 13 to 7, for the first time since 1928; the Toledo Devils band used up too much time at the half and cost its team a 13-yard penalty which helped Toledo Walter win by 14 to 7; Marion Harding's 15-game winning streak was ended, 20 to 0, by a thrice-defeated Sandusky Blue Streak club, while Springfield's Wildcats, upset by Mansfield's 6 to 0 a week ago, turned giant killer to wreck Hamilton's Big Blue, four-time winner and heavy favorite, by 32-13.

Fullback Bob Lucas of Paulding registered the week's outstanding individual performance. The Negro junior, his team 7-0

Former Harding and St. Mary Players on S. O. P. Team.

Seeking to avenge a previous 14-0 loss, Marion's semi-professional football Tigers oppose a strong Galion Jaycee eleven in a return game Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. in Harding stadium.

Two bad breaks cost the Tigers a 14-0 loss in the first meeting between the two teams three weeks ago at Helse park in Galion. A Tiger fumble on the Marion 10 yard marker set up the first Galion score midway in the first period. Halfway through the fourth stanza a bad kick placed the Jaycees in scoring position on the Marion 11. Three plays later a Galion back crashed over for the score.

Except for these two miscues the two teams battled on even terms.

Most of the members of the war plant eleven are former Harding and St. Mary athletes. This group includes King Keller, Martin Lewis, Jim Gilmore, Bill Fate, Pete Bascos, John Edington, Howard Hodges, and Nick and Frank Cafagno.

A number of these players won all-N. C. O. and all-Ohio honors while members of championship Harding teams of recent years.

Keller who was selected on the first team of the 1940 All-N. C. O. squad and later was honored on various all-Ohio teams picked through cooperation of statewide news services, is captain of the Tigers. In addition he calls plays from his post at center.

Pete Bascos, who played tackle on two championship Harding elevens and was honored twice as a first string all-league selection, has been moved to the fullback spot in the Tiger backfield. As a sophomore at Harding and in Junion high school, Bascos operated from this spot. He was transferred to the line in 1939 by George Niemi, former Harding line coach.

Martin Lewis, ranked alongside of Wayne Short, now a marine, and Warren McGinnis as one of the best guards in Harding history, is at right guard in the Tiger line. N. C. O. sports writers voted Lewis the league's No. 1 lineman in 1941.

All three of these youths, Keller, Bascos and Lewis, sparkled on defense as the Tigers made their Marion debut last week by holding a powerful Columbus Denton Service team to a scoreless tie.

Tickets for the Wednesday night game are now on sale in the downtown area and can also be obtained from Scioto Ordnance Plant employees or members of the plant's athletic association, headed by George Baum.

O. S. U.-WISCONSIN GAME IN NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT SATURDAY

Both Teams Unbeaten
Have a Couple of S Backfield Players.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 27.—a couple of double-star backfield players behind two charging, evenly matched elevens and anything can happen—probably will Saturday Ohio State-Wisconsin football clash.

The undefeated records teams give the game top billing in the national picture. More of a "natural" than Ohio has the Western conference's top scorers, Fullback Fekete and Halfback Paulding, while the Badger Fullback Pat Harder, also leading conference grounders, and Elroy "Ghost" Hix, sophomore halfback sensation.

Stellar Line Play
While those four men been handling the ball-chore in highly acceptable fashion, much of their success—five straight wins and Wisconsin wins and a tie—has been due to the stellar line play.

Fekete, whose 41 points conference competition is more than the total scored by Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, due, Indiana and North-duke, declared that his scoring were made easy by the line, opened by the fast-charging line.

On the Wisconsin side, Backers' rugged line—v Ohioan plugging the line hasn't allowed an opponent than one touchdown. One of the big reasons—Nesque, a sophomore center.

CITY'S ANNUAL PARTY PLANNED

Community Yule Event To Be Staged Without Fund Solicitation.

The community children's Christmas party committee will not ask for any financial backing to stage the 1942 Christmas party for the city's less fortunate children. The party this year will be the tenth anniversary of the committee's organization.

At the first meeting of the Christmas party committee last night at the Central Fire station, representatives of the various organizations unanimously endorsed the proposal of Chief T. J. McFarland, finance chairman, and the first chairman of the committee, that the party be staged this year without solicitation for funds.

There are two reasons why the party can be staged this year without solicitation for funds, Chief McFarland explained. The fact that there is no lack of employment in Marion this year and that, thanks to the generosity of contributors last year and efficient handling of funds by the committee, there is enough money in the treasury to take care of the anticipated number this year.

Many homes where there are children, who because of unemployment or other circumstances would attend the party will have Christmas parties of their own this year, the chief pointed out.

Children receiving toys and attending the Christmas party last year number around 900 considerably less than in other years, and the number will be much less this year, it is expected. However it was pointed out, there will be work to be done, and because there will be no solicitation for funds doesn't mean that the help of every individual and every organization is not needed to stage the 1942 event.

According to plans outlined last night, there will be no theater party but the children will receive their toys from the "toy shop" at the Central fire station. Marion County Children's home will be cared for as in former years, their toys being delivered by Mrs. McGinnis Post No. 102, American Legion, whose members have always taken care of this feature of the party.

While there are funds in the treasury to purchase the toys for the 1942 party, and there are toys, repaired and painted by the firemen of Central station, there still will be need for dolls for the girls and toys for boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 10 years. The reports showed organizations, as in former years, will be asked to help in providing these toys.

Throughout the summer firemen at the Central station have been repairing the toys and also during the summer a number of persons, looking forward to the Christmas party, have contributed toys. In keeping with the policy of making the children happy, several large toys for outdoor play were given to the children of the Marion County Children's home.

Committee Praised. In his talk last night Chief McFarland praised the work of the party committee. "It has been wonderful to come here year after year and find all you people ready to help in this work," he said. He recalled the work of the committee and the generosity of Marion citizens every child in the city has been cared for at Christmas time. He pointed out that people are being asked to give and give until it hurts for the necessary needs of today and expressed the belief that a Christmas party without the solicitation of funds this year would be a welcome gesture on the part of the committee.

Representatives of various organizations voiced their approval of the plan and pledged the support of their groups, should some circumstance arise making it necessary to raise additional funds. In informal talks on the proposed method of staging the party, Captain Owen Smith was authorized to purchase the toys.

New Year Brings New Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Beginning Jan. 1, your employer will start deducting the new "story" tax from your pay-check.

This is in addition to your regular income tax. The victory tax is 5 per cent of your income over $12 a week ($624 a year). If you're on wage or salary, your employer will withhold this percentage and pay it directly to the government. Just as he does now with your social security deduction, which will continue unchanged.

If, however, you're in business for yourself, or you're a domestic servant or farm worker, or a public official paid by fees, you'll pay this tax along with your regular tax on 1943 income March 15, 1944.

In either case, you'll find it place on your bank at that time for computing your exact victory tax. A business man will find he can deduct the same expenses as under the regular income tax. And an individual will find he can deduct such things as alimony, separate maintenance payments, gain from a sale of a capital asset or any compensation for injury or sickness. Charity contributions are excluded.

But then he'll come to the matter of credits. The treasury is just "borrowing" part of the money included in the victory tax. A single person will be able to claim a credit of 25 per cent (up to a limit of $500) and a married man 40 per cent (up to a limit of $1,000)—plus 2 per cent for each dependent (limit $100 each)—of the tax.

These credits fall into two classes: 1. Current Credit. You'll be able to deduct the credit from the amount you pay in 1943 on your regular 1943 income tax. (Note this "43" you have paid out an equivalent amount in 1941 for life insurance premiums (provided the insurance was in force on Sept. 1, 1942), for payments which reduce your outstanding debts below the lowest amount owed in the period from Sept. 1, 1942, to the end of the year; or for purchases of war bonds and stamps.)

If your payments for such items do not equal the total credit allowance, the rest becomes: 2. Post-war Credit. For this remaining amount of the credit.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Skin Diseases

IN YESTERDAY'S article I referred to the modern conception of dermatology, and the skin is the mirror of the system and the dermatologist of today has many interesting and varied duties.

We are reminded by several recent reports that skin conditions play an important part in the health of our new army, not only the military, but also the industrial workers. Lt. Col. Lehmann calls on dermatologists to be good soldiers, and while deflating the general state of health found in a survey of our young citizens makes a remark that I think is worth quoting just now:

"We must first be concerned with removing the dirt from our skin before trying to build a healthy skin." The Army physicians do not have to deal with the chronic of fixed skin conditions because these are called out in the preliminary examination. But they have plenty of acute skin troubles to deal with. In World War I there were 1,348,000 days lost from active service on account of skin afflictions, and this was hardly seen as a marked reduction.

In some forms of acute dermatitis the present army medical department is on the alert for prevention. It is hoped that modern treatment will reduce the 57,000 days lost from trench foot—during the last war.

A particularly troublesome form of skin disability is from plain skin infection of the skin. This is natural because in field maneuvers the fingers and finger-nail beds are likely to become infected with small abscesses, which are transferred to the other parts of the skin by contact and by scratching. So medical officers are particularly alert to treat these apparently trivial infections in their incipient.

Scabies—the itch—we will always have with us probably. And no wonder, if you consider the enterprise of the female itch insect. Buxton, of the British Army, found that from egg to adult female was an interval of eight days, and she begins to lay eggs twenty-four hours after maturity and lays two eggs a day for fifty days. To compute that requires logarithms rather than the multiplication table. You may think of the itch as a minor annoyance, but it caused the loss of 393,700 active service days in 1917-1919.

In this war troops are in lands with tropical insects and vegetation. The army dermatologist who has been living and practicing peacefully in a country where the worst offenders are chiggers and poison ivy will be compelled to learn a new technique. He must become familiar with Spanish nettle, black palm, mango itch, kong palm, pung-a-pung rash, dumayaka foot, fishall lipa, dilano and buta-butia.

Perhaps after this war the boys will feel that returning to a civilization that provides only eczema and hives will be too tame for our dermatologic specialists will be found sitting under coconut trees on some coral atoll, languishing.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

I TURNED BACK to Mary, putting my fingers on her wrist with gentle pressure, as Katharine taught me to awaken a sleeper, but Mary did not move a muscle. Her response as I called her name loudly I grasped her shoulders and shook her, but in vain.

"She's completely under," my father declared. "How about Noel?" he asked, as Lucy came in.

"All out," my husband answered. "He couldn't hear the last trump if old Gabe were sounding it. But he's all right, I'm sure."

"So am I," my father said, "but I'll have to have a doctor's verdict before I'm satisfied. Where's the doctor?" He turned to Adams.

"Miller took him along. The doctor wouldn't permit Redfield to be moved without a stretcher."

"Where are they?"

"In suite 1522," Miller said. "If you wanted to know anything about Redfield you could call him there."

"Nice of him," my father drawled, near to a verbal explosion. "I'll call him presently. First, I want to find out all I can from you. How did you know there was a coffee pot in the sitting room?"

Adams shot a quick glance toward the other suite.

"I'm going to whisper," he said. "It wouldn't be so good if Miller should happen to come back—he has a key you know—and find me shooting off my mouth."

"All right," my father said, lowering his voice. "Go ahead."

"Was there a coffee pot in the sitting room?"

Adams shot a quick glance toward the other suite.

"All right," my father said, lowering his voice. "Go ahead."

"I didn't know," my father said. "There wasn't one near the bed, was there, Richard?"

"No, I, but I wasn't looking for one. I was busy with Noel."

"It wouldn't be near the bed," I said. "I'll look."

"Don't touch anything," father said with an imperative note, "and come back here as soon as you have looked closely."

I hurried into the other room, slipped an instant by the couch, to listen to Noel's breathing, then went on to the coffee table and noted that a hotel tray was on it. Completing my mental inventory, but touching nothing, I hurried back.

"There's a tray on the table," I said, "of the kind room service sends up. On it is a coffee pot, a cream pitcher partly filled, a small silver plate with two lumps of sugar on it, two cups and saucers, with perhaps a spoonful of creamed coffee in it, and a plate holding a few tiny biscuits and cookies."

"Good," my father commented. "You couldn't tell whether there was any coffee left in the coffee pot?"

"You told me not to touch anything," I replied warily, not knowing whether he was testing my obedience, or had forgotten what he had said to me.

Evidence Removed

"So I did," he said. "Well, I'll look at it, and smell it, now."

"You'll be wasting your time, sir," Adams said respectfully, but in a whisper.

"How's that?" my father asked. "Because," Adams said, Miller took good care of that. He switched the trays, after he was sure they both were safely under."

"You mean Miller dragged them?" my father asked. "How could he manage that with Dr. Twitchell in the room?"

Adams shot a quick glance toward the other suite.

"I'm going to whisper," he said. "It wouldn't be so good if Miller should happen to come back—he has a key you know—and find me shooting off my mouth."

"All right," my father said, lowering his voice. "Go ahead."
